Kirstin Flores, Director

This year, we have seen many examples of resiliency and service amidst the COVID19 pandemic. The Attorney General's Office of Victim Services (OVS) wants to take this time to applaud each of you in your dedication and service to justice, victims' rights, and hope for crime victims.

Because of the unprecedented times, the OVS was disappointed, like all of you, to cancel this year's regularly scheduled activities during the 2020 National Crime Victims' Rights Week (NCVRW). But now, more than ever, it is important to take the time to pause and reflect on the complex and traumatic experiences of crime victims and truly honor and recognize the important, and often very difficult, work that you do to ensure this year's theme is fulfilled every day.

Although we could not gather together during the 2020 NCVRW, we were able to find a way to connect with victim services providers throughout Arizona to showcase #WhyWeAdvocate and celebrate our important work while honoring crime victims. I hope you enjoy the pictures.

Please see our website to watch a short video showcasing the #WhyWeAdvocate campaign with participants from all over Arizona at:

Outreach Survey Response Needed

As we all make adjustments during the COVID-19 pandemic, the Office of Victim Services is committed to supporting agencies around the state in their efforts to serve victims and uphold victims' rights. As such, the current health crisis requires that we adapt in how we continue to deliver the high quality victims' rights education you are accustomed to receiving. The Outreach and Education Program is diligently working to identify a platform to continue the presentation of victims' rights education in a safe and engaging manner. Accordingly, we would like your input as how to best meet your needs in Arizona victims' rights education going forward. Your input in this new endeavor is most appreciated and we thank you in advance for your patience and understanding as we forge ahead in this new challenge. Please complete the survey in the link below to let us know how best we can support your educational needs.

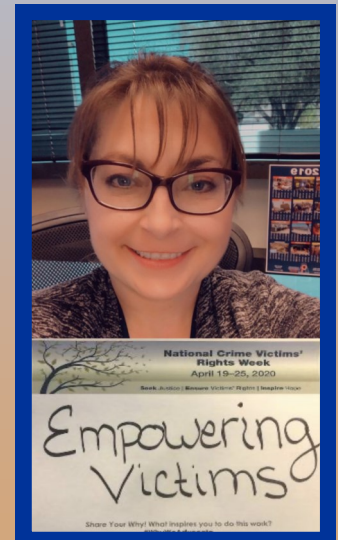

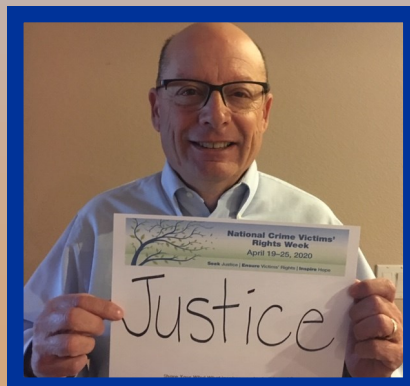

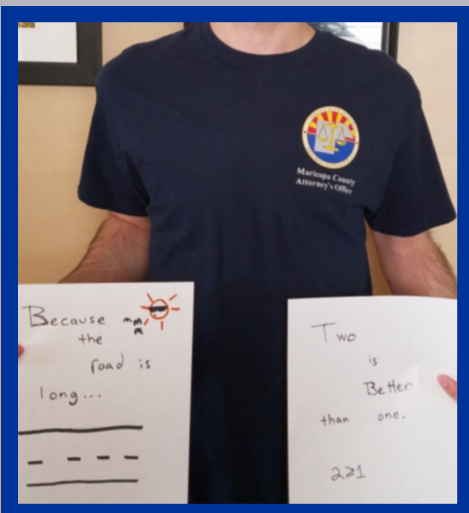

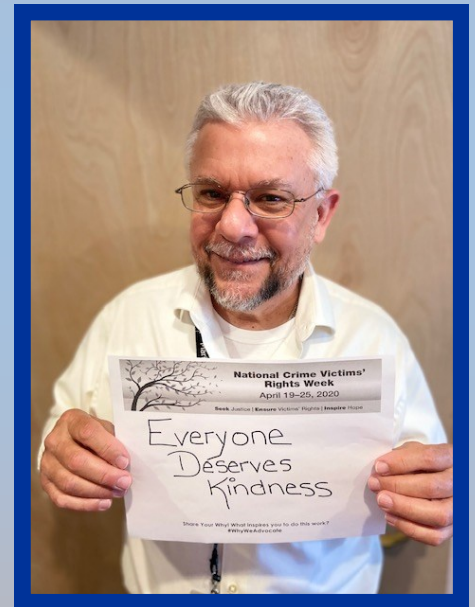

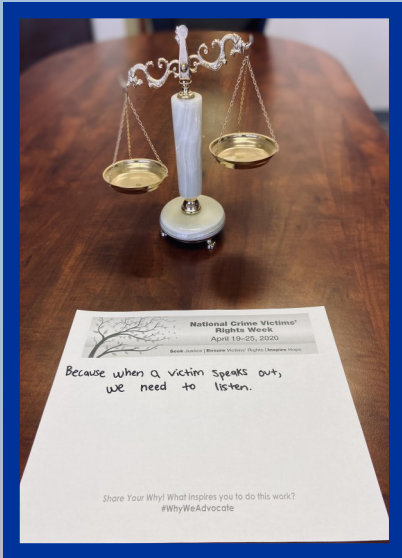

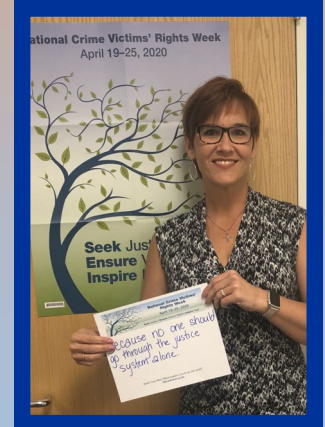

Thank You!
